

style NP

Dark ages

Fine and fashion jewellers have turned down the wattage this season, working with a patina of blackened gold, tarnished and oxidized silver, stormy stones and dark metal undertones. Sultry grey pewter, brass patina and matte settings are tougher, quieter and suit the mood of the day.

By Nathalie Atkinson

Montreal duo Antonio Serafino and Annegret Morf's Pallino collection of sterling silver rings evoke industrial spheres and have faceted tourmaline, amethyst or citrine, $128-$139 at Serafino studio, Gallerie Créa and also at the Salon des Métiers d'Art in Montreal until Dec. 22